

Know who.

No clue.

The CL20 electronic lock challenges the common practice of securing narcotics drawers and cabinets with mechanical keys.

Consider being able to control access rights by assigning a unique ID to each authorized user, or program units to require one or two valid combinations in order to open. You also have the ability to retrieve audits, providing instant verification of lock opening and closing events. Not to mention eliminating lost, copied or misused keys.

The CL20 from Kaba Mas. Easy to install, operate and packed with some much needed know who.
